Getting Started With Stratfor Worldview

How to Access Worldview

To access Stratfor Worldview, please visit worldview.stratfor.com. From there, click Sign In and use your username and password to access the full benefits of your account.

To get started, make sure all of your account settings are correct. On the top right-hand side of the website, hover the mouse over your temporary display name or the profile icon. You will see a drop-down menu that you can use to navigate to various pages within your account.

Profile

The profile page is a great place to start. Check your personal information to make sure your first and last names, display name, email address and phone number are correct. We would also appreciate you including work and role details on this page so we can continue to customize your experience.

Personalize your profile even further by uploading a picture of yourself. Just click on the + symbol to upload your preferred image. Then click Update Information to save your profile changes.

From the Profile page, you can also update your password. Simply enter your current password, then enter a new password for your account. Remember to click Update Password to save your changes.

Billing

On the billing page of your account, you can check the status of your current Stratfor subscription and easily update your card information. If you have any questions, you can call the number listed below your billing information or click the Contact Us button to send us a request for assistance.

My Collection

This is your library of Stratfor insights. You can use it to collect your favorite columns, videos or analyses. You can also use it to save articles you want to read later (with the bookmarking function found on each article page).

Forums

Share your questions, opinions and ideas on topics covered throughout Stratfor Worldview with fellow readers. Or comment on individual articles and start a new discussion in the forums. The Worldview team of analysts and writers regularly participate in and facilitate forum discussions. We look forward to hearing from you!

Situation Reports are swift and succinct accounts of breaking events and matters of geopolitical significance. Please be aware that by subscribing to Situation Reports, you may receive up to 25 notifications per day.

Select Save My Email Notifications before leaving the page.

Worldview Content and Features

Topics and Themes

Stratfor's expert analysts, writers and editors have identified the major themes and topics that shape the world and made them easy for you to explore in Worldview. We are thrilled to share this unique and powerful tool with you. From the homepage, you can easily explore trending topics and themes (see below: The Syrian Civil War, Russia's Internal Struggle and more).

Every assessment you read on Worldview connects to these core themes and topics. You will find topics, themes, regions and related articles in the Connections section of every article.

Connected Content

In addition to the Connections bar, you will find related articles throughout your reading. These cards can be clicked on to take you directly to that article, or saved for later reading. To save the article for later, simply click on the bookmark icon on the content card. You can then see everything you've saved in My Collection. To remove it from your collection, simply click on the bookmark icon again and it will automatically leave your collection.

Analyses, Columns and Sections

Analyses

The deep, objective analyses we write at Stratfor are the heart of the value we offer you, our valued member. We have organized our analyses into three distinct groups: Snapshots, Assessments and Columns. The navigation bar on the website explains them best, so we recommend you head there to explore.

Columns

We know that many of you really enjoy our weekly columns on geopolitics and security.

The screenshot shows the Stratfor Worldview website navigation bar with the following elements:

- Stratfor | WORLDVIEW™ logo
- Navigation menu: Forecasts, ▾ Analyses, ▸ Sections, Forums
- Three content tiles:
 - Snapshots: These concise, timely reports shape our broader assessments. They identify the importance of singular events and explain how they fit into the bigger picture.
 - Assessments: From a foundational report to the most detailed analysis, our assessments cover every corner of the world. Reflections on daily events, guidance for the week ahead and forward-looking geopolitical evaluations are found here.
 - Columns: Written by Stratfor's senior analysts, columns put our weekly reports into the proper context.

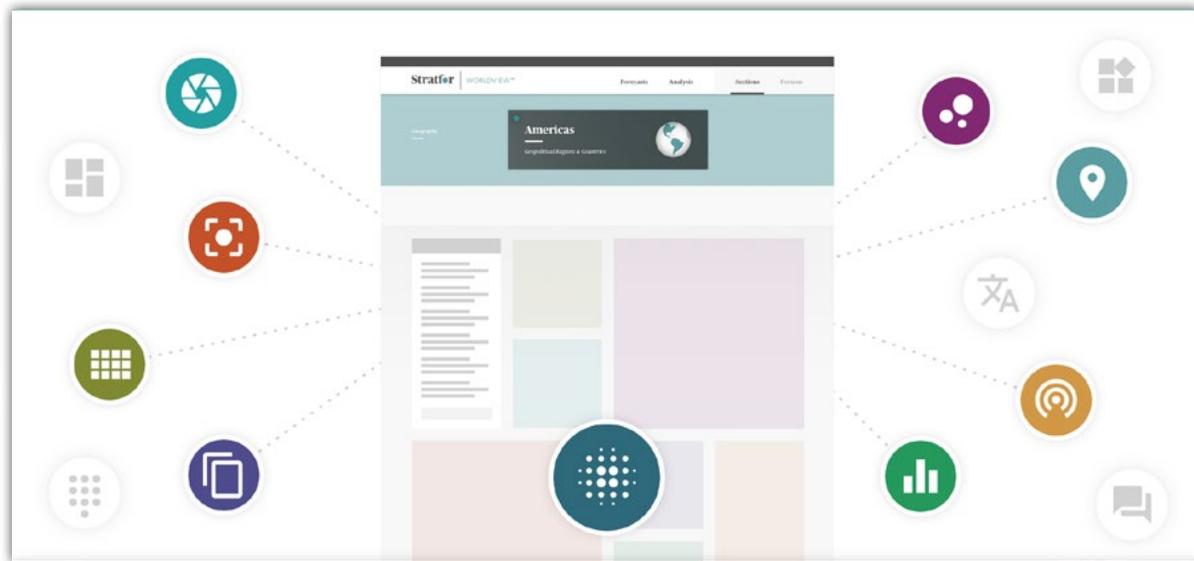

All of the columns produced by our team of analysts and writers can be found under the Analyses and then Columns section of the Worldview site navigation.

Sections

On the main navigation bar, you will see Sections. Here you can find unique perspectives on global events from external contributors; Stratfor's take on breaking events (Situation Reports); multimedia, from maps and charts to videos and podcasts; and special series on topics ranging from NATO to water scarcity.
